

Earned Income Credit

The earned income credit (EIC) is a tax credit for certain people who work and have earned income under $53,505. A tax credit usually means more money in your pocket. It reduces the amount of tax you owe. The EIC may also give you a refund.

After 2010, you can no longer get advance payments of the credit in your pay during the year as you could in 2010 and earlier years. This is because the law has changed. However, if you are eligible, you will still be able to claim the credit on your 2017 return.

EIC is a refundable tax credit meaning you could qualify for a tax refund even if you did not have federal income tax withheld. To claim the EIC, you must meet certain rules. These rules are summarized in Table 1.

*Effective in 2017, if you claim the Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC) or Additional Child Tax Credit (ACTC) on your tax return, the IRS must hold your refund until at least February 15- even the portion not associated with EITC or ACTC.
