

Important Information 2022 Limits on Voluntary Tax Deferred Contributions

UCF offers a wide choice of voluntary savings plans to assist you in planning for your retirement. One way to meet long-term financial goals is to participate in a tax-deferred 403(b), 457(b) plan, and/or a post-tax Roth 403(b).

Enrollment and changes for 403(b) and/or Roth 403(b) must be processed through logging into the Retirement@Work website from the UCF HR Retirement page.

The 457(b) plan is administered by the State Office of Deferred Compensation; employees interested in enrolling or changing contributions should call 1-877-299-8002 or visit their web site at www.myfloridadeferredcomp.com. The HR Benefits Section receives all contribution data electronically from Deferred Compensation. If you have questions regarding your elections or processing time, please contact Deferred Compensation.

Although the UCF Benefits Section will make every effort to assist you with reaching your retirement goals, unexpected factors such as refunds, pay rate changes and processing deadlines may affect your contributions. It is the employee’s responsibility to monitor their contributions and limits by viewing their on-line pay advice on a bi-weekly basis and consulting with their financial advisor or provider.
